CT : Pie Chart

Insights :

The pie chart shows the total sales by country, and the sales are quite balanced across the top five countries. The United States leads with 25.03M (21.08%), closely followed by Canada and France with around 24M each. Germany also performs well, contributing almost 20% of the total sales. Mexico has the lowest share (17.65%), which suggests there's potential to focus more on this market for future growth. Overall, the sales are well distributed, reducing the risk of relying too much on one country. It's a good sign of a diversified market presence.

1 Up Arrow (↑) –

This helps you go back a step after you've drilled into detailed data.

👉 Example: If you drilled from Region → Country, clicking this will take you back to Region view.

2 Single Down Arrow (↓) –

This lets you explore more details in your data.

👉 Example: You can click on a region and see the countries under it.

3 Double Down Arrows (↓ ↓) –

This shows everything in the next level at once without needing to click one by one.

👉 Example: You instantly see all countries under all regions together.

4 Down Arrow with Line (↓ –) –

This also helps you go one level deeper in a nice and simple way.

👉 Example: Click on a region, and it shows the countries directly.
